

Eat The Rich*, 2020

Miguel Martin

We are explorers in the further regions of experience.
We manufacture nightmares and sell them as dreams.
We own your time, your tears, your suffering.

Demons to some. Angels to others.
We incur the wrath of pain.
Our chains too heavy to be broken.

We are building on the heritage of our ancestors.
We engineer schisms in the fabric of reality.
We are everything you were afraid of.

We will crush your attempts at a revolution.
Our tendrils extending far beyond the reaches of your imagination.
We will flourish in the shadows of control.

We will direct our power into the next millennia.
Empower those who wish to seek our pleasures.
Correct the balance of law and order.

Those who wish to forego our bidding shall rot.
Once you enter, you will never leave.
You are the great experiment.
